Kevin and wife Val run a farm at Killarney in Victoria's south-west. They have six sons and three daughters and as well as greyhound racing, Aussie rules is their passion.

Kevin Jnr was the greyhound influence in the family. The Mugavins had put their faith in the broodbitch Val Matesse (Temlee- Dark Debutante) and she had produced such class acts as Currency Lass and Blue Lightning for them.

Currency Lass had won 22 races and $25,000 in stakes including the Sapphire Classic, while Blue Lightning won 20 races.

At the Gabba, Rich Manner (Tivoli Fables-Brazen Best) ran 33.15 to beat a luckless Trixie's Flight to win the state final of the National Sprint for Mick Lisgos. Tasmanian champ Busy Vintage was leased for 12 months to NSW studmasters Rick and Dick Anderson and would join former Victorian Tangairn. Busy Vintage (Highland Summer-Tiny Port) was the 1984 National Sprint champion and had been runner-up to Brother Fox in the Hobart Thousand. In all he had started 49 times for 26 wins and 10 seconds. He had won 15 races at Hobart.

Sire Highland Summer had won 37 races in Tassie, and dam Tiny Port won the Hobart Gold Cup. Busy Vintage's litter brother Highland Port had been second to Chariot Supreme in the Hobart Thousand.

Owner-trainer David Crosswell leased his dog to the Andersons for a year. He would stand for $400.

At Harold Park, Daisy Doll (Admiral Lynch-Gallant doll) landed the Vic Peters Memorial for veteran trainer Les Castle.

Castle had earlier in the year won the Young Star Classic with Lord Buttons.

and sixth at Olympic Park to add to her Anniversary Trophy at the track.

She was the pride and joy of ownertrainer Terry Reid who rated her his best in 14 years of training.

Olympic Park record holder National Star started odds-on favourite but finished unplaced.

Star sprinter Eaglehawk Star was retired to stud. The son of Tangaloo-Country Coast won the 1985

Australian Cup and was runnerup in the National Sprint and Melbourne Cup.

Raced by Deryk Daws and Paul Daminato, he was trained by Marijane Jovanovic who had been South Australia's leading trainer for some time.

Boom South Australian youngster Taj Rossi continued his great run of success with victory in the Labor Day Cup at Angle Park as odds-on favourite.
