

Lisa joins the GRA

WHEN Bev Elliott left the GRA a couple of months ago, grading secretary Ordet Lowe was promoted to the position of executive assistant to general manager Darren Beavis.

Which left a spot to fill in the grading panel. Lisa Kennedy, 29, has taken to the position quickly and efficiently, even without a background in the racing industry.

Lisa (above) has been working in the motor industry for some time but admits she was looking for a change when the GRA's position came up.

Racing can be tough to take on board when you or your family has had no involvement in the sport, but Lisa is doing just that.

"I'm getting there," she said.

"Having been in the motor industry and all the speed there, I'm finding this just the same ... instead of wheels, they've got legs."
